A- Your highest joy and greatest delight is to express your gifts fully

Work and struggle is what is required to hide and repress your gifts. Fun, play, ease and delight are side effects of the fullness of source flowing through your being as you express the gift of YOU completely and fully.

B- You are gifted

People who are not very gifted, can live a life doing anything - and enjoy it. Not expressing your gifts causes contracting (feeling smaller), heaviness, depression & sorrow. The more gifted a person is, the more they have to express those talents or be tortured by them.

C- You ARE your gifts

You may have been taught you are not supposed to know or express your gifts... but your gifts ARE the EXPRESSION of YOU. They are your essence. You are not separate from them. If you are denying your gifts you are denying yourself the full magnificence of you.

D- Your collection of gifts are a magical expression

No other being in All-That-Is has your same collection of gifts. They are your unique fingerprint that is prized, renowned and sought-after throughout all worlds. When combined your gifts are the expression of pure magic that is the signature frequency of you.

E- Allow yourself to see how you already use your magic

A gift is often found not in WHAT you do, but in HOW you do it. Many people have found "acceptable" ways to use their gifts here, and tell cover stories for how they are actually accomplishing it (by using magic :) When you start to get real with HOW you are doing things, you'll start to see the true magic of YOU!

F- Your biggest life challenges are pointers to your biggest gifts

When you see the wrongness of you, you are mis-perceiving the truth. What you perceive as your biggest problems are often gifts misused or misinterpreted. Embodying your gifts and potencies opens the flow, problems simply start to resolve themselves, as if by magic (the magic of YOU).

G- Your gifts are fun, joyous, playful and delightful to you

The outgoing reality has created hard work, struggle and toil to be valuable. Your gifts are easy and simple to you, they are not work, they are the frequency of FUN and play. So your gifts are not inherently valued by traditional standards or people invested in the old energies. To people who are just waking up, your gifts are priceless jewels of a bright new future!

H- Your gifts are elements of a brighter future many have been conditioned to avoid

The outgoing world has not understood or seen the benefit in your gifts, so you have not been acknowledged for them. They haven't seemed to fit into this world or have value. And because your gifts are an element of you... YOU didn't seem to fit or have value either.

I- Your gifts are so natural and easy, you can't imagine anyone not having them

Your gifts are so core to you, that you assume everyone has to have them in order to function. Places where you see the world not functioning, are indicators of your gifts. Places where you perceive easier possibilities, are a product of your gifts.

J- Your gifts are big, Look Bigger! (bigger yet... keep going...)

Much of your gifts make no sense in the context of "normal" reality. It's not until you embody the size of the planet, galaxy, universe or beyond that they have a context that seems coherent or applicable to you. You are an infinite being. Go bigger.

K- To find your gifts, you have to be willing to see the greatness of you.

Anywhere you have made a commitment to fitting-in to this reality and being "normal," you are hiding the greatness and the gifts that you are. Finding your gifts requires a choice and commitment to being authentically you, all the way through.

L- Your gifts are a trail of breadcrumbs to finding the truth of YOU.

If you were to see all your gifts and abilities, you would clearly see your divine infinite self. As you keep moving into the expression of your gifts, more gifts naturally join in the fun, guiding you to more of the truth of who you be.
